

Single-line Ten-frame

The image contains two identical vertical single-line ten-frames. Each ten-frame is a vertical column of ten rectangular boxes stacked on top of each other. The boxes are empty and intended for students to write numbers or symbols. The two ten-frames are positioned side-by-side with a significant gap between them.