Bill Davidson is available for training teachers, math coaches, curriculum specialists and administrators. He has worked with public, private and charter schools of all sizes across the U.S. In addition to comprehensive training, Davidson offers workshops with topics ranging from "Singapore Math® Curriculum Overview" to "Precision Teaching," demonstration lessons, teacher observations and feedback, and coordinating of parent nights.

Davidson specialized in the Singapore Math® program since 2006. His teaching and program development have been featured in the Philadelphia Inquirer and the Monterey Herald, and he has given Singapore Math® presentations and workshops throughout the nation.

In 2009 he was chosen for the ACE (Appreciating Charter Educators) award, which recognizes two teachers in the nation each year who improve student achievement, use innovative and creative instructional strategies, and make a difference in the lives of students. In 2010, he taught a continuing education course for teachers at Neumann College in Aston, Pennsylvania - Mathematics and Visualization Across the Disciplines: Applying the Singapore Method. Since the 2006-2007 school year, Davidson has worked on Singapore Math® implementation with more than 50 schools.

During the 2013-14 school year, Davidson will provide ongoing Singapore Math® professional development with 15 schools in Oregon, California, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Washington D.C.
